At Willow Lakes, every building was damaged. Three churches, a school-house and all the elevators and livery barns are lying in heaps of ruins. The Great Northern depot was thrown across the railroad track, and seventeen box cars were tursed bottomside up. The Methodist Church is upside down on the parsonnes.

ST. PAUL'S VISITATION.

Twelve Persons Killed and Great Damage to Property. Sunday night telegram from St. Paul, Minn, says:

Death to twolve persons, injuries to many offers and destruction to property both private and puttic, estimated in round numbers at $1,00000 resulted from valiey of the Mississippi at about nine oclock last night from a point somewhere near the confluence of the Minnesota and Missouri rivers, near Fort Snelling. At about that point the fury of the elements seemingly divided, and with a roar descended on the twin cities and this contrast.

philits at west st. Pau, and it is joint feet above the river. This mass of steel was carried to the flats below, where flying steel girders and heavy planks fell on several small frame houses of the flat dwellers and crushed them cometely. Underneath the debris of the Tivoli were Underneath the debris of the Tivoli were found, when the storm had passed, the mangied bodies of Lorin F. Hokanson, one of the employes in the concert half, and George Kwenton, one of the audience. The storm then rushed on to the north-east, over the wholesale district, and here the greatest destruction to property was wrought. After causing havoc in St. Paul the tornado swept onward to Minneapolis and its suburbs. Here, however, the destruction of property was not so great, although telephone and telegraph wires were torn down in great numbers. For hours the twin cities were cut off from any communication with the outside world.

York Harbor Last Night.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Mrs. Florence Maybrick arrived at quarantine on the Red Star Line steamer Vaterland to-night and slept within sight of the lights of the city, she had not seen in twenty years. At 9 o'clock to-morrow morning she will land in this city.

Mrs. Maybrick will not attempt to hide her identity, it was said by her lawyer, Leonidas Yarnell, to-day. While she booker her passage as Mrs. Rose Ingraham, it was wholly with the purpose of avoiding annoyance and it is stated by Mr.
Yarnell that the report of the sending of a "dummy" Mrs. Maybrick ashore is wholly without foundation. Mrs. Maya "dummy hars, maybrick will be met at the pier perhaps by the largest assemblage that hes ever gathered to welcome a home-coming ship in New York. The officials of the line have made arangements to meet unusual secondary.

S. V. Hayden, of the firm of Hayden and Yarnell, Washington lawyers, representing Mrs. Maybrick in her suit against the executors of the Holbrook estate, is on board the Veterland with his wife, accompanying Mrs. Maybrick Mr Yarnell will meet them on the pier.

Dr. Emmett Densmore, of Brooklyn, and his wife have completed arrangements for affording Mrs. Maybrick the seclusion and retirement she needs at their country home near Ellenville in the Catakills, where she will remain some time before going to Virginia.

WIDE RANGE IN CHICAGO WHEAT VALUES

(By Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, ILL., August 22.—Wheat values cavorted over a range of four and a quarter cents to day, as a result of opposing influences, low temperatures in the Northwest, and strong claims that the Canadian 'crop is sate. September sold at 112 and broke to 188 1-4. December bounded to 114 soon after the opening and sold at 108 3-4 during the session.

The close showed a net loss of five-eighths cents for September delivery, at 100 7-8. December closed at 111, a decline of one and five-eighths cents from the previous final figure.

Popular Marshall Park Organization Enjoys Its Annual Melon Feast.

CURTIS AGAIN PRESIDENT

Reconsiders His Retirement. Speeches and Songs Were Followed by Melons.

The Windy Point Club, a popular though informal organization, having its head-quarters at Libby Hill Park, had its anhouse. There was a large crowd in at-tendance, including many of the bestknown members and several distinguish-programme and made what was expected to be his valedictory, which turned out to be his valedictory, which turned out to be an inaugural address. In fact the venerable young president of the talk-fest organization announced that after due deliberation, he had reconsidered his determination to retire from the head of the club and in obedience to the wishes of the members, had determined to ac-cept a re-election for an indefinite ten-

present remarked was so dignified as to partake almost of the nature of a religious gathering. The presence of several representatives of the clergy heightened this impression and the music had a religious strain about it.

Congressman John Lamb had come up from Henrico to be a guest of the club at this celebrated function and was honored by being the first called upon. Capt. Lamb entered heartily in the spirit of the occasion and made one of his most felicitous addresses, which was admirably received. He entertained the prospective feasters for some time and was warmly applauded,

AT THE

The Academy opens its season to-day, the first production being the meiodramatic success, "The James Boys in Missour," which will be presented this afternoon and to-night.

This play is based on the lives of the famous Missouri desperadoes, and, unlike other productions taking the same theme, has nothing of the "blood and thunder element about it, Thrilling incidents are chosen, and these, combined with an interesting love story and elaborate scenery, make the play one of the successes of the year. The Blue Cut train robbery is porrayed with elaborate scenery. The play takes the James boys from the Civil War until Bob Ford assassinated Jesse James.

For the twenty-third edition of the "Devil's Auction" the scenic effects will, as usual, be one of its strongest features. This portion of the production has been under the direction of the noted artists. Thomas Neville, W. Taylor Ruc, Henry E. Burky and Louis Borgomanari and assistants, and the claim of Manager Yale that this is a "Devil's Auction" from a new point of view is vigorously asserted, The play has the hoards to-morrow, matinee and night.

The story of "The Liberty Belles," which comes to the Academy Thursday, matinee and night, is almost entirely humorous. It is a comic play which has its foundation in a sentimental escapade on the part of Margery Lee, a stage-struck girl, engaged to Jack Everleigh, an Annapolis cadet, and Dorothy Grey, a fellow-student, engaged to Phil. Fullerton, a Yale Junior. These parts are played by Lottle Staveley, the widely known comedients and mimic, and the strikingly beautiful young actress and vocalist, Ame Stuart.

Stuart.

The tuneful music of Gilbert and Buillivan was heard in "The Mikado" at the Casino last night, and to hear the airs, once so popular, was like renewing acquaintance with an old friend. They are quaintance with an old friend. They all came back to the audience, one by one and were more pleasing to the ear that some of the popular music of to-day, by reason of the fact that it has been some time since they were heard, while the inewer tunes have been dinged doings as much, of late, that lies have worn their welcome out. Nohody attempted to introduce "The Man Hohlnd," for which the audience was grateful. "Twe Got Him On the List." Three Little Maids," The Flowers That Bloom in the Bigning. "It willow," and all the others, so familiar to sverybody, were rendered in any experience of principals and chorus was envirely safisfactory.

Mr. William Herman West, as Kocko, the Lord High Executioners got a great most fetching Yum-Yum, and sang in good voice.

Mr. Charles O. Bassett Mr. Bowman Raiston, and Mr. Albert Wilder were all entirely acceptable in their roles. The audience seemed to enjoy the production husely, and some of the members received several encores, notably that of "The Flowers That Bloom in the Spring" the reception given, thus being due to the efforts of Mr. West.

The campany will not present the opera, "Dinafore," at the matiness, to be given at the Chaino Wednesday and Saturday, as announced. The Mikado will be presented four times, including the to-morrow matinee, and "Iolanthe" will be presented four times, beginning Thursday night and including Saturday, matinee, The Bijou opens the first Monday in September.
